KELOWNA, B.C. – September 6, 2023. Residential real estate market sales activity slowed down slightly but remained steady in August as wildfire activity in the region hit its peak, reports the Association of Interior REALTORS® (the Association).

A total of 1,265 residential unit sales were recorded across the Association region in August, representing a moderate 2.6% increase in sales compared to August 2022, yet down compared to last month's 1,337 units sold.

New residential listings dipped 3.4% compared to August 2022 with 2,219 new listings recorded. The total number of active listings saw a healthy increase of 11.6% of total inventory compared to August last year with 7,778 recorded across the Association region, nudging out last month's 7,770 total residential listings. The highest percentage increase in active listings continues to be dominated in the South Okanagan with a total increase of 38.1% compared to the same month last year.

"While sales activity seems muted compared to the unusually high activity over the last few years, when comparing to pre-pandemic years it held up pretty steadily in August," says the Association of Interior REALTORS® President Chelsea Mann, adding that "the high cost of borrowing and the raging wildfires across the province likely played a part in subduing market activity."

"This is however a welcomed calming of sorts, as it allows both buyers and sellers to make more informed decisions as opposed to having to expedite their decisions in order to either beat the competition or to outrun rising mortgage rate hikes," says Mann.

In the South Peace River region, there was a total of 40 residential unit sales recorded in August 2023 showing a 11.1% decrease compared to August 2022, yet up over July 2023's 34 units sold. There were 4 new listings representing a staggering 81.8% decrease in year-over-year comparison, with a total of 294 active listings in August marking a 14.0 % increase compared to the same month last year.

"The South Peace River region's real estate market has fallen below the average throughout the year and August was no exception," says Mann, adding "that market activity in the region wasn't too far off from the average, which is a promising sign that this below average trend could start trending in the opposite direction during the last quarter of the year."

The average price for single-family homes increased yet again coming in at $331,318, up 25.2% compared to August 2022.
